Community Development Fund serves up funding to Tennis Yukon

WHITEHORSE—Yukon's Community Development Fund (CDF) is awarding 12 recipients with a total of $168,319 through its Tier 1 funding, promoting projects that provide social and economic benefits to Yukoners.

"Through the CDF, we see many groups getting involved in community projects across Yukon," Economic Development Minister Jim Kenyon said. "This funding allotment will allow work to be undertaken on a wide variety of projects, from facility upgrades to leadership programs."

Tennis Yukon received $20,000 of Tier 1 funding to resurface tennis courts at Mount McIntyre.

"To resurface the courts we will install a weather-proof surface, which will take about a week," Tennis Yukon President Stacy Lewis said. "As a result of resurfacing, we suspect the 40 or so players we get per day to increase, as the new surface will heighten awareness and increase Tennis Yukon's profile."

Yukon Wildlife Preserve Operating Society received $19,999 to create way-finding signage that will allow guests visiting the Yukon Wildlife Preserve to more effectively navigate the 750-acre property.

"Originally, the preserve only provided guided bus tours of the grounds, we now estimate half of our visitors are viewing the preserve through self-guided tours on foot," Yukon Wildlife Preserve Program Manager Chris Wilkinson said. "The result of this project will be an improved experience for visitors as we will add directional signs to better navigate the preserve, an orientation map in the middle of the preserve, and safety signs for some areas."

The Community Development Fund offers three funding levels. Tier 1 is available for requests up to $20,000. Tier 2 is available for applicants requesting $20,001 to $75,000 and Tier 3 is available for requests over $75,000.

The next intake deadline is Friday, May 13 for Tier 1 and Tier 2 applications. Organizations are encouraged to contact community development advisors well before the deadlines for assistance with their applications and to develop project ideas. To learn more about the CDF, visit www.cdf.gov.yk.ca or contact the CDF office at 867-667-8125 or 1-800-661-0408, extension 8125.
