Final Response ATIPP Access Request 23-189

Decision

The Public Service Commission has identified no records responsive to Access Request 23-189. The final response on the information is as follows:

No Record Found

The Public Service Commission has no records found to information relating to the request noted below:

Please provide the following in a machine readable format: Number of employees who have brought bullying cases forward, broken into if it was a supervisor or colleague. How many were women as the bully and how many were women on women bullying. Please provide from earliest available information that YG has. This is for a student assignment, so please provide any I anticipate that much of this information will be held at PSC. There is no request for personal information. Please direct to where these are held (if they have already been posted from YBS or another information request). Timeframe: January 1, 2013 - August 1, 2023

The Public Service Commission has records arranged by case number, but does not organize data in the form the applicant has requested (i.e topic), and does not track gender or relationship status (i.e colleague/supervisor) for the purpose identified in the applicant's request.

The Public Service Commission is very open to supporting student research work. If the applicant would like to contact the Respectful Workplace Office directly, they will endeavour to assist the individual in whatever way they can.

The Respectful Workplace Office, can be reached at Jennifer.Tanasychuk@yukon.ca or phone number 867-332-5659.

Final Costs

There is no charge to the applicant.
